Foreword

To our teachers . . . to you who struggled to implant within our hearts the seed of Christian Charity . . . to you who enriched our minds and souls with the fullness of Catholic doctrine . . . to you who have asked the Almighty to be forever near us . . . may these hands of ours never engage in any work that would cast the least shadow on you and on our loved parents . . . with pleasurable pride we offer you this our loving tribute.

To you who sacrificed so that we could reap the benefits of a Catholic education
. . . to you who molded our character and personality from the first steps of infancy . . .
to you who pray that our happiness and safety might forever be . . . We dedicate this book with all our love.

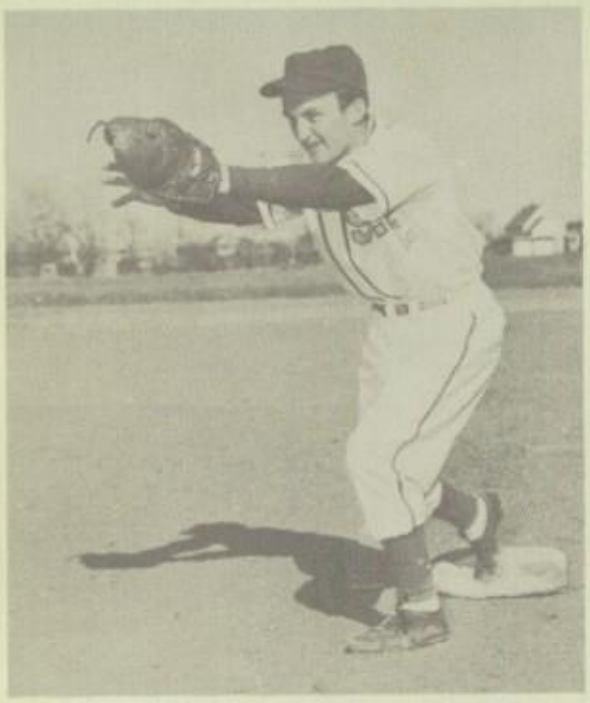
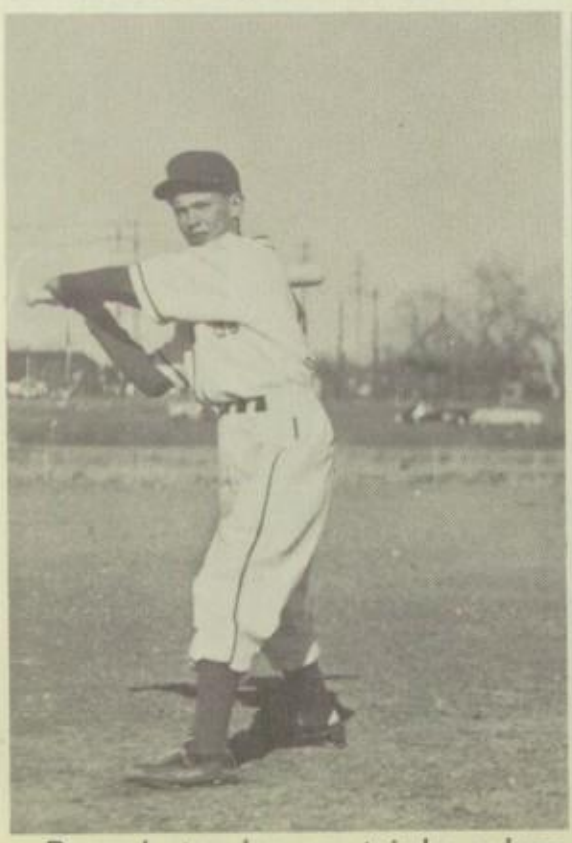
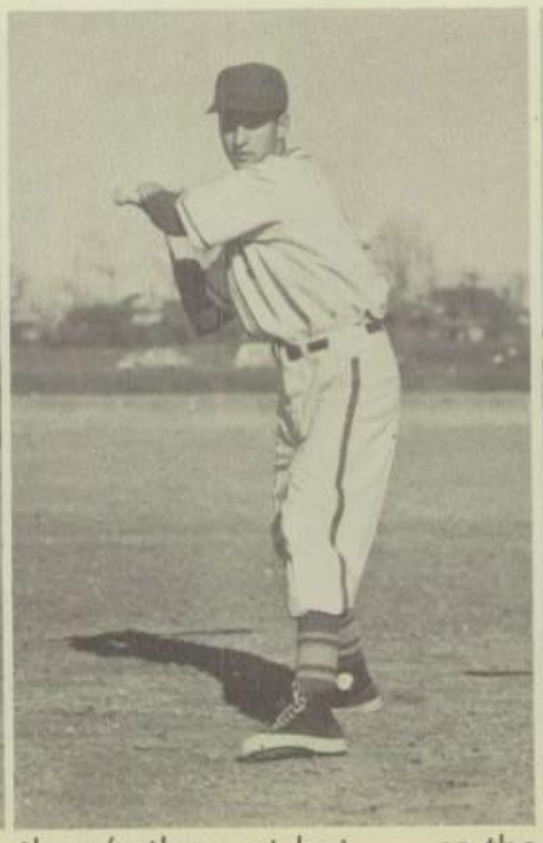
One-Two-Three Strikes, you're out! . . when you're up against the Gremlin pitching aces, Dick Brady, Jack Dore and Rusty Mather.

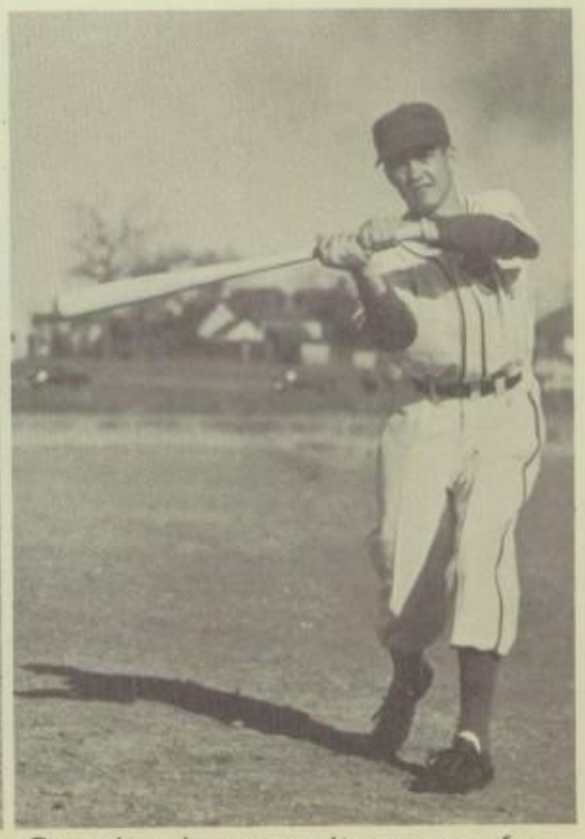
This is what is known as Balling the Jack! . . . says the better half of the keystone combination, Vince Piccola and Corky Reid.



Come - on - a - my - mitt. Come on! . . . encourages first baseman Dick Polson.







Bound to be a triple when there's three at bat . . . as the Gremlin battery lines up for practice: Fred Boom, Louis Martinelli and Ronnie Brothers.

EPILOGUE...

As your hands turn this last page, may you pause for a moment for a final good-bye from the class of '52. This annual marks the completion of our senior year, the fulfillment of all projects that we shall undertake as a class. Within its covers are found all the laughs, all the tears, all the occasions and people that helped to make our High School dreams an unforgettable memory to cherish forever. In years to come when our familiar countenances shall fade from these hallowed halls of St. Francis, may you re-read this book, dear friend, and find between its pages the sincere message of love and happiness that bound this volume together, as it once tied so firmly our own personalities into a wonderful and lasting friendship.

Any success this annual may achieve is due solely to the constant and unfailing assistance rendered by all concerned. To these and many more, we owe a great deal of thanks for all that they have done.

To Father Kekeisen, we extend our deepest gratitude. His expert, guiding hand is clearly evident in the structure of every page. His keen journalistic mind encouraged us to make this annual the best ever.

To Sister Alphonse Marie, whose valuable time was given to us in unlimited quantities. Her help and suggestions were of infinite assistance.

To Msgr. Smith and Mother Thomasine and to the rest of the faculty, for the wholehearted and enthusiastic encouragement they have always shown us with each new task we undertook.

To Andy Martelon, of the Hirschfeld Press, for his personal interest in this book, for his inventive and kindly suggestions, and for the generous donation of his time, we extend a very heartfelt and sincere "Thank you."

To Caeser Morganti, whose patience we almost exhausted, for the splendid portraits of the seniors.

To Warren Turilli and Stan for the superb photographic work that is evident throughout this yearbook.

To Mr. Joseph Bianci for the underclassmen's pictures.

To Father Morfeld, Mr. and Mrs. George Mulqueen, Marion Patton, Joseph Kratz and Ray O'Connell, for the use of their hands as models for our theme pages.

To my co-editors, Mary Jane Garvin and Phyllis Reagan, whose interest and co-operation were much appreciated.

To Joan Nielsen for the unselfish donation of her time and her car. Her generosity made it possible for the book to be completed on time.

To Steve Lubeck and Bill McCabe, for their efficient handling of the financial end of the book.

To the entire staff for their valuable help and support which helped lighten my burden.

To all our patrons and advertisers—May God bless them!

To all of you who were so patient and good about bringing in your subscriptions before the dead-line date.

Last but not least, to each and every underclassman the best of luck and happiness as you climb your way up the ladder of knowledge. May these years bear for you the same unforgettable experiences that we shall always hold so dear to us.

Your Editor

George Moosbrucker
